

Subprocessors and Service Providers

Last updated January 19, 2023. Effective from February 18, 2023.

Slido may engage and use a selected set of vendors to process certain Customer Personal Data in connection with the Service. This page provides all information about the entity, location of processing and role of each vendor.

Prior to engaging any vendor, Slido carries out due diligence to evaluate the vendor, focusing on privacy, security and other practices affecting the processing of Customer Data. Slido has written agreements in place with all such vendors ensuring protection of Customer Personal Data. Slido is responsible for its vendors.

Why do we need them?

As we would like to focus on our mission, we decided not to run our own infrastructure or develop all the features that we need ourselves. But Slido needs a home, so we have agreed to work with the following companies and incorporated their services as an underlying, integral part of our solution.

Subprocessors

Where the Customer is the Controller and Slido is the Processor:

VENDOR	PURPOSE	PERSONAL DATA	LOCATION WHERE PERSONAL DATA IS HOSTED	DATA TRANSFER SAFEGUARD
Amazon Web Services, Inc.	Infrastructure as a service	Contact data, Content data	Ireland, Germany	Standard Contractual Clauses ("SCC")

Service Providers

Where Slido is the Controller, we made sure we have no Processor transferring data to third countries without Standard Contractual Clauses. You might notice we have nevertheless kept references to Privacy Shield in addition to Standard Contractual Clauses despite it being invalidated as a sufficient transfer safeguard on its own. This is because it is still additional evidence of privacy compliance efforts. Additionally, we audit our service providers in accordance with the latest guidance to ensure we have sufficient supplementary measures in place.
